*Please note that YEW Interns should be available to attend the David R. Collins Writers Conference June 27-29; while attending is not required, it is part of their compensation.

YEW will participate in a public reading on Thursday, July 18, approx. 6-9pm. More details, including location, are TBA. While attendance is not required, we hope as many interns as possible will be able to participate.

Thursday, August 15 at 5:00 p.m. is the release part for The Atlas, Vol. 14. All YEW interns are expected to attend and to read their selections from the issue; copies of The Atlas, stipends, and the Curry Outstanding Intern Award will be given out at the event.

WRITING/DESIGN SAMPLES

Please attach two (2) samples of your best writing and/or page design, published or unpublished. You may include a poem, story, short essay, play or novel excerpt, part of a script or sketch, feature article for a newspaper, newspaper/yearbook page you designed, or any other work you feel demonstrates the strongest examples of your writing and/or design ability. No hand-written work. Contact MWC with questions about work samples.

PLEASE NOTE: YEW does not hire or reject applicants based solely on their work samples. We will contact all applicants for brief phone interviews starting in April.

Thank you for your interest in the Young Emerging Writers Summer Internship Program.
